TWO-YEAR-OLD CHILD MEETS UNTIMELY DEATH

A sad accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thibodeau on Eighth Avenue on Saturday afternoon last, when their young child, Walter, accidentally fell into a pan of boiling water.

The boy is thought to have been in the water a few minutes before being discovered and on examination was found to have been very badly scalded around the lower part of the body. Despite all the efforts of doctors, parents and others, the little fellow passed away on Monday morning.

Walter was the joy of the home and a real pet and favorite with all others who knew him, and the loss to Mr. and Mrs. Thibodeau and family is indeed a severe one.

Interment took place yesterday afternoon at the Catholic cemetery and was attended by pupils of the local school and large numbers of older folks. Floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Sunday next will be observed throughout the Dominion as Mother's Day.

COUNCILLOR PICCARIELLO ASKS FOR TAX EXEMPTION

The regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday, the mayor and five councillors being present.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved, and the following accounts were passed for payment: J. Howe $7.50, B. Serandi $8, G. Lang $6.50, Workmen's Compensation Board $3.64, S. Smister $3.00, T. Kubie $12.00, West Canadian Collector for April 1st current $837.10, M. H. Congdon for drafting plans for Lyon Creek bridge $20.00.

E. Verquin applied for release of taxes and motion by McDonald-Morency, he was granted $8.25 exemption on his 1919 taxes, same to be credited on his taxes for 1922.

Morgan — McDonald — That the Council sit as a Court of Revision for the hearing of appeals against the 1922 assessment on Wednesday, May 17th, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Councillor Morgan gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the council he would introduce a by-law, setting a mill rate for taxation for 1922.

Mr. J. E. Gillis drew attention of the council to the unsanitary condition prevailing at the rear of the town hall property near his residence; also to stones and other rubbish rolling towards his residence from same. He also requested the Council to take steps to have Eighth Avenue graded. Council promised to go into the matter.

Mr. Ferguson asked permission to repair fences around the general Protestant cemetery. Council agreed that the matter needed attention and would visit the cemetery site on Tuesday and arrange for the necessary fencing.

Several residents of the Peileter Addition appealed to the Council to have the waters of a small creek flowing through that part of the town so diverted as to relieve the present menace.

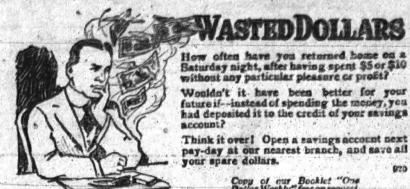

Councillor Piccariello informed the council of his intention to erect a large service garage and warehouse, fronting on Victoria St. on three lots immediately west of the Alberta hotel. He stated that the new enterprise would be "a benefit to Canada, a benefit to the Crows' Nest Pass, a benefit to Blairmore and the people of Blairmore, and a benefit to Piccariello," and asked the Council if they would grant him tax exemption on the improvements for a period of ten years in consideration of his establishing a labor-giving industry.

Councillors Morency and McDonald voiced themselves as favorable to the granting of the request, but as a whole the Mayor and council failed to see that it would be within their power under the towns act to allow such exemption.

The following communication was received from the Social and Athletic Club of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Lethbridge, addressed to the mayor:

"The Canadian Pacific Railway Social and Athletic Club contemplate holding their annual picnic at some point in the Crows' Nest Pass on July 1st. It has been suggested that we go to Blairmore, provided adequate accommodations can be secured for this purpose, and providing the present train service remains in effect. Please advise what accommodation your town can offer for this purpose in the way of grounds, hall for dancing, and shelter providing weather should turn rainy while there. Will be glad if you will let me have this information as soon as possible, so I can take up with committee in charge of arrangements."

The secretary was instructed to reply as follows: "We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 5th. The matter referred to came before the Council and I am to advise that in the event of your Club deciding to make Blairmore the point for

Felt Like He Would Have To Quit Work

Winnipeg Citizen Says Tanlac Built Him Up Fifteen Pounds And Put Him Back In Finest Health—On Job Every Day Now.

"Before taking Tanlac, I always felt tired and worn out, but now I don't realize ever feeling better, and I have actually gained fifteen pounds in weight," said James Cheney, 816 Sarjeant Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

"Seven years ago I began having pains in my back, over my kidneys, from year to year, they grew worse. Then, about two years ago, a stomach bug began troubling me. I had almost no appetite, and my strength failed rapidly. I was frightened—every now, couldn't sleep, and finally got so weak and hurt so bad I felt I'd have to quit work entirely."

"After taking everything I thought could help me, I read a testimonial of Tanlac that fit my condition exactly. Then I bought a bottle and began to get better right off. Now my troubles are gone and I'm in fine shape. Tanlac has done it all and to me it is the best medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

For the motor truck and the motor tractor China is a virgin territory holding out immeasurable possibilities of development.—From the New York Herald.

An Example of Value of Aviation

Australian Surgeon Used Airplane to Make Emergency Call

An example of the great value of aviation in bringing far-away places near to the city and sciences in case of emergency, was a call from Carriarvon, 500 miles away, to Dr. Treatbowan, of Perth, Western Australia.

The service of a skilled surgeon were greatly required, but there was no railway communication. One of the Western Australian Airways machines, flown by Lieutenant Kingston Smith, left Perth at 5 p.m. and arrived at Geraldton three and a half hours later. The doctor met the machine there, and the next morning at 6 o'clock left Carriarvon, arriving not long after people in Perth had breakfasted.

The operation was performed, and at 6:15 the following night Dr. Treatbowan was back in Geraldton Aerodrome after concluding the fastest call in his career.

Harmless Foods Poison Some People

Many Cannot Eat Things that are Commonly Used
"One man's meat is another man's poison," runs the saying, and there is a lot of truth in it.

In his book, "Food Poisoning and Food Infection," Dr. William G. Sayago records the case of a boy who was unable to eat eggs in any shape or form, no matter how disguised.

When fourteen months old he was given a small amount of boiled eggs, but only a taste of it he screamed violently and clawed at his mouth, which immediately became swollen. Red welts appeared about the lips.

Even playing with egg shells brought out similar welts on his arms and hands. This went on until his mother realized the cause of the trouble, and ordered all eggs to be banished from the household.

Some time later, however, the child accidentally swallowed a small portion of the white of an egg. The boy suffered more severely than he had done before, and became half-unconscious for three hours.

Such mysterious "illnesses," known to medical men as "idiosyncrasies," are far more common than is generally realized, and they can be handed down from parent to child. In one case, for instance, the same family were unable to eat potatoes without becoming seriously ill.

Many people find that they cannot eat fish, tomatoes, pork or shell fish, while even such seemingly harmless things as almonds and other kinds of nuts are poisonous to some people.

Rockefeller's Gifts to London

The Rockefeller Foundation has given £1,000,000 to the University of London and the University College Hospital. It has also made an offer of $2,000,000 for buildings and equipment for a school of hygiene in London, on condition that the British Government make provision for teaching and maintenance. The offer has been accepted. These are substantial returns for sundry benefactions of Englishmen to our country in its struggling days.—The Independent and The Weekly Review.

Queer Signs in Japan
The Prince of Wales enjoyed a laugh when he saw some of the signs with English inscriptions which several Japanese tradesmen display outside their shops. An Outfit That Will Soon Be Seen Everywhere

Young Scientists Needed

Pulp Industry Requires Trained Men to Solve Problems

Here are a few of the problems faced by the men in the paper and pulp industry in Canada.

They have heavy losses every year as a result of the decay of wood in storage. Also some mills now have to haul their logs long distances.

Also, and this fact is not generally known, the pulping processes have been only slightly improved in the last fifty years.

The value of the industry will be increased at least 25 per cent when all these problems are solved, but a great deal more intensive scientific investigation is necessary in connection with each one of them.

An effort to supply the deficiency in training is being made by the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research of Ontario, Canada. Arrangements have been made to award 7 Fellowships, 9 Studentships and 23 Bursaries among men who are taking scientific courses, and it is hoped that among them may be found suitable scientists who will devote themselves to the solution of the problems of the pulp and paper industry among others.

Time to Spend Money.

Would Help to Give Country Fresh Productive Start

If we all sit down and do nothing, and wait for others to help us, we shall not move far. We must help ourselves. There must be a spirit of enterprise, a determination to hustle. Under its influence the ranks of the unemployed will soon be thinned and the whole country will enjoy a general awakening and improvement. The worst policy for us all to pursue is to sit tight on our money and thus let stagnation continue. There are times when spending money boldly is far better than exaggerated thrift. Spend it now and give the whole country a fresh productive start. Don't talk about what you are going to do later on when times get better. Do it now, and times will get better.—Johannesburg Times.

New Publicity Medium

Address on Canada's Merits Transmitted by Radio to U.S.

For the first time in history the merits and attractions of Canada were made known to the public within a radius of 250 miles of Omaha by radiotelephone. The occasion was the delivery of an address to the Rotary Club of that city by Mr. J. Bruce Walker, Director of Publicity and Information Bureau, Department of Immigration and Colonization, Winnipeg, Canada. Mr. Walker addressed the audience through Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri, through the friendly courtesy of the proprietors of the Omaha Daily News and it is estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 persons heard his address through the medium of radio. This marks a new development in publicity for Western Canada and in the means of promoting information and good will between Americans and Canadians.

Tracing Tuberculosis

Origin Can Be Easily Traced by Keeping Records

By marking hogs and keeping records of their source until they have been slaughtered in the packing plants it is possible to find the farms on which tuberculous hogs originated. The use of this system has originated in the United States, and is gradually being adopted here, particularly for the hogs usually get tuberculosis from cattle. However, it sometimes happens that no tuberculosis is found among the cattle on farms from which tuberculous hogs have been shipped. In these cases evidence has been found indicating that the hogs probably became infected from poultry. It is believed that in a large percentage of the cases where hogs are infected and the cattle are clean, avian tuberculosis will be found on the place.

WORK FOR YOURSELF

Don't do your best to please some boss, or foreman, or supervisor, or president. That's a hiring trick. Do your best because you cannot afford to do less; because you owe it to your self-respect.

Merit your own esteem. Dig for it.

Do your own faultfinding with your work. You know it best. You can see the flaws quicker than any one else. Don't hide them. Talk about them if you must; talk about your work. Let others answer the merits, if they ask. Shut your ears to praise.

Why should you be pleased that your work finds favor in the eyes of others?

Who are you working for anyway, the other fellow, or yourself? Stick to that point of view.

That way to freedom lies, for no man who works for himself is dependent.

Make your employer dependent upon you. That will put you beyond the reach of despotic caprice.

Men who are afraid of their jobs are plenty; men who idealize their work are mighty scarce, and all the arrogance in the world cannot change the man who works for himself into a trembling, crying wretch.—Ford.

ABOUT SEX INDICATORS

Here is what the United States department of agriculture has to say about certain so-called sex indicators in a report recently published in the form of an official bulletin:

"One of the most recent 'marvels' brought to the attention of the public was the sex detector which, so the manufacturer claimed, would indicate unfailingly the sex of the bird that would be hatched from an egg or whether the egg was fertile or not. By its use poultry raisers were promised approximately 100 per cent hatches and as high a percentage of females as they desired."

"One of these instruments was an elongated, tubular, plummet-shaped device made of nickel plated iron and filled with a greenish mixture of calcium carbonate and an aluminum salt and suspended by a fine thread. When held an inch above an egg containing a male germ the stung tube was said to swing back and forth like the pendulum of a clock, but if the egg were of the opposite sex the tube would describe elliptical circles, and in the case of an infertile egg there would be no motion at all. Another device consisted of a small gilded, wooden ball, having a cavity filled with red lead and covered by a small iron disk, the whole suspended by a cord. The telltale motions, were claimed to be the reverse of those that indicated male and female with the other instrument."

"At the suggestion of the Post Office department, the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States department of agriculture made tests of several of these sex detectors, with the result that all the manufacturers have now gone out of business. Tests of eggs and other things by a number of persons showed that all the instruments were useless. No two persons got the same results with the same eggs, and eggs known to be infertile gave positive indications that they would hatch both pullets and cockerels."

'SMATTER WITH THE CLUB, HOUSE?

Visitors to the Golf course these days are struck by the presence of a rapidly growing club house. The new structure is being erected

"HOCKEY" IN 400 B. C.

The discovery a short while ago of a fine marble bas-relief, which had been used as building material for the old wall of Athens erected by Themistocles in 478 B.C., has led to the second discovery of a second bas-relief of the same type within a few metres of the first. This second bas-relief is also decorated on three sides with figures in low relief, and is in almost perfect condition, says the "Manchester Guardian."

On the central side is depicted a scene which is remarkable and unique. A group of six young men is seen. In the centre stands two, each holding in his hand a stick shaped like a hockey stick. Most remarkable of all, they are holding the sticks in the position of a "bully" at the commencement of a game, and between the sticks is seen a ball! There is no known example in Greek art, either in vase painting or in sculpture, of such a scene. Were it not that the relief has been found incorporated as a part of the wall of Themistocles and has been seen the place where I found myself—the learned world might well have raised great controversy as to its authenticity. On each side of the central group of two men stand two others, in restful attitudes, holding a similar "hockey" stick (in one case, however, it seems to have been painted in, and not sculptured).

The scene on each of the side panels is in subject the same. A warrior holding a spear and shield is seen mounting a chariot, the driver of which holds a goad and grasps the reins of a team of four horses. Behind the chariot two armed men advance on foot, each holding a round shield on his left arm and a spear in his right hand. The spears were originally painted in, and the marks of the paint can be seen clearly. All the warriors wear Corinthian helmets, but the driver of the chariot wears an Attic helmet.

In style the second bas-relief is in some respects less perfect than the first, but both are masterpieces of archaic art. The artist of the second bas-relief shows a more developed style, and belongs, I think, to a period some ten years later than that of the first.

Thus, if, as seems probable, the first bas-relief dates to the decade 410-410 B.C., the second belongs to the ten years preceding the battle of Marathon. The earlier work thus belongs to the emancipator period of Athenian history—the Republic of Athens that followed the expulsion of the tyrants, —the latter belongs to the more serious time that preceded Marathon, when war was in the air and the Persians were beginning to encroach upon the Greek cities of Asia Minor and to loom like a thundercloud upon the horizon of Greece itself. It is fitting, then, that in the one we see the carefree youths of the playing fields and in the other armed warriors setting forth to battle, though even in the second case the central scene is still one of a game.

GOOD ROADS AND THE AUTOMOBILE

Among all the agencies of progress none has been more important than the good roads movement. At first thought, this statement may be difficult to fully appreciate; at least, it may be if we think of good roads merely as highways rather than from the standpoint of the part they play as a link in the chain of growth and development of the territory in which they are built.

Good roads are a means of better transportation, and therefore increase their greater value. From the standpoint they are just as important as the automobile and the railroad. Of course, we can get along without good roads, but to do so involves a step backward such as none of us want to take in this age of progress and efficiency.

While good roads of themselves are not a dramatic thing to look at, they do play a dramatic part in the life and business of today; just as much so as the telephone and the telegraph. The people of any territory that has good roads will testify to this fact.

There was a time when messages were sent on horseback, when goods were hauled in horse-drawn vehicles and people travelled from place to place by carriage or coach. There was a time, too, when business letters were written by hand and counting was done the same way. There was a time when manufacturing operations of all kinds were performed by hand. But those days have passed in practically every part of the civilized world. Manual labor has given way to machinery. This is the age of the telephone, the telegraph, the typewriter, the cash register, the adding machine, the automobile, the motor truck, the railroad.

Machinery and progress have become synonymous, simply because the use of machinery is another way of implying increased economy, accuracy and all-round efficiency. And so it is with good roads. They are an agency of efficiency and progress. We need only make a study of communities and sections of the country where good roads exist. And what do we note? An atmosphere of industry and contentment, of prosperity and progress. And then, by turning to communities where there are no good roads, we can see an absence of the very thing which good roads bring.

In some countries, good roads have been maintained so long that they no longer present any problems. They have been in existence for generations. This is particularly true of the older and better settled countries. Europe, for instance, presents many examples of wonderful roads built a thousand or more years ago and maintained in perfect condition throughout the ages.

The most surprising feature of the good roads problem is that any modern, civilized community should hesitate to build and maintain highways. A thousand years ago, or even fifty years ago, good roads were, perhaps, not so necessary, for in those days there were no automobiles. Yet, notwithstanding this fact, good roads existed. How much more they are needed today, when transportation, communication, business and life itself are on a so much more efficient basis.

One thing that I would impress is that no community or man should consider the first cost in connection with the building of good roads, for they are an absolute necessity and anything which is indispensable always pays for itself in the end. I am anxious to drive this point home, because in practically every instance where there is hesitancy over the construction and maintaining of good highways we find that the obstacle is the first cost when instead only the value and benefits to be derived should be considered.

We cannot disassociate mention of the motor car from a discussion of good roads, for there is a real connection between them. Good roads stimulate the demand for motor cars

FIRST OFFICIAL CROP REPORT

Conditions attending seeding of spring crop are satisfactory in most parts of the province according to the first official summary of crop conditions compiled from reports received by agents.

Southern Area.—The southern area has been favored by heavy precipitation during April. Through practically the whole of the south moisture conditions are better than for several years past while, in some places the land is reported to be too wet for seeding. In this area wheat seeding is general and should be completed next week. A heavy acreage was seeded to fall rye and the crop is looking particularly promising at the present time. The measure has given a strong root and in many places the crop is covering the ground.

In many of these districts rye forms 25 to 30 per cent of the total acreage. From all, that can be determined at the present time, a heavy crop of rye will be produced.

Central Area.—Seeding is somewhat further advanced in the central part of the province, many places reporting 90 per cent of wheat seeding done. The condition of the land generally is drier than for some years past. There is no occasion for anxiety, however, as the moisture which invariably comes in June and July in this area is the determining factor. The seeding of oats has commenced but will not be done until the middle of the month.

Northern Area.—Moisture conditions in the north are all that can be desired. Wheat seeding is general and should be finished next week. Seeding of oats will commence about the 15th.

The season is generally somewhat later than usual, particularly in the southern part of the province. With the appearance of warm weather, rapid growth will be made, however. It is somewhat early to estimate what the probable crop acreage will be. From present indications it would appear that an acreage slightly in advance of last year will be seeded.

and increase the driving pleasure of the owners of automobiles.

Bad roads restrict the demand and make the driving of motor cars less of a pleasure than it otherwise would be.

Good roads and motor cars have done more than any other influence known in removing the isolation of farm life. They have brought the communities closer together. They enable people to get out into the country and visit places they never saw, or perhaps, never heard of before. They make it possible for the farmer to get his produce to market more quickly and in fresher, cleaner condition than before.

Good roads and the motor car have come to be recognized as a sign of progress, and the absence of them is a sign of retrograding. Under their influence communities have forged ahead, whereas they otherwise would remain in a rut.

Raising New Canadians Through Means Of A Broad Immigration Policy

"I have spent my life in a great section of my own province almost wholly peopled from the provinces of Fukowina and Gatica, and who have wonderfully developed the land upon which they settled," says A. S. Scott, M.P., in his speech he delivered two terms in the legislature of Alberta. "They were of farming communities to begin with, and in coming here, came to settle upon the land, to farm or to work for farmers. They have prospered, as they have made the country prosper. They are not like the immigrant who came here merely because the country offered high wages, and who now finds himself with less than nothing. I was willing to work for $4 a week; even when I was a man, but I looked ahead to that time when I, too, would take my place as a fully qualified New Canadian. That is the term I like to hear applied to the peoples who come here from foreign countries, and who come here hopeful of being able to take their places as New Canadians. Bring in such people, you bring in a good citizen, and Canadians will regret it. Bring in a good man, no matter where he comes from, and Canada profits. Bring in a bad man, one who will never make a citizen, one who never means to be a good citizen, and no matter what country he may come, Canada will suffer."

"Canadians need not worry where their immigrants come from. If only they know that the right men are coming in. They must be hand-picked. They need not be as searchingly selected if they come from Great Britain as they need to be if coming from any other country. Get the right men and women into the country, and you won't have the 'floaters,' as I call them. For instance, just as a side issue, I am entirely against men coming to this country leaving their families behind them. My experience is that 99 per cent of those who come without their families, even though they may come fixed in the intention of having them follow, go wrong; just as I have found that 99 per cent of those who have brought their families with them, make good."

"We want assimilation, but the inclination is to force it. That is bad; let it permeate gradually. Teach my people how to farm properly, and in their quick aptitude to learn they are soon well enough off to take their place in their second generation without any outward difference from the Canadian-born of several generations. I have instilled this into my own family, and would like to give you a personal illustration of what can be accomplished in making New Canadians out of a broad immigration policy based upon sound and even strict selection. I came to this country under such a policy, as a boy of 12, being brought by my parents. Now I have my own children in the schools of Alberta; and only the other day my boy won the championship in the debating competitions in the high schools of the whole province. As simulation of the right kind, I submit, brought about, too, I believe, by a constructive and liberal policy of hand-picked immigration."

Treeline Advances West

Progress of Settlement Stops Prairie
First and Gives the Trees a Chance

What has happened in the United States middle west is also happening on the Canadian prairies, namely, the tree-line, which fifty years ago, was located a comparatively short distance west of the Mississippi and Red Rivers, has advanced several hundred miles into what was formerly the bald prairie. The line has not moved forward bodily but "islands" and groves of trees are today to be found like outposts in districts, where there were formerly no trees. This is believed to be due to the fact that the progress of settlement has stopped, more or less completely, prairie fires and given the trees a chance. Progress westward has slowed down because the remaining lands left to farm, when harvested, seeds are carried largely by wind. In the last fifteen years, however, the rate of advance has been more rapid largely because of the more determined fight against prairie fires. Trees are now spreading southward from the well established forest along the Saskatchewan. In addition to this normal process of forest growth, individuals and communities have planted groves all over the west. The Dominion forest nursery station at Indian Head has sent out over six million trees to forty thousand farmers in the last twenty years, and this with civic and school planting is helping to change the appearance of the prairie."

Experimental Farm Facts

Valuable Information Gained Through Tests Being Conducted

A brief study of the reports of the various Dominion Experimental Farm Superintendents makes evident the fact that they contain much that is of value to the farmer... By writing to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, a copy of the report of the nearest farm or station for the district can be obtained. Numerous experiments are conducted there, and there are often special tests designed to deal with local problems. At Bragg Creek, Alberta, for instance, some special experiments with alfalfa seed inoculation have been conducted. At Brandon, Man., we learn that reseeded screenings have been fed to horses with success to replace part of the oats previously fed, and that the screenings should be mixed with bran. For over two years while this mixture was fed there were no digestive troubles and the horses appeared to keep in better condition than before. At Scott, Saskatchewan, we learn that when barley was a little higher in price, screenings were profitably fed to lambs. From the farm at Napano, Nova Scotia, we are informed, experiments in feeding steers have proved that cheaper gains can be made by feeding a cheap grade of hay along with ensilage corn, and that ensilage corn has a high value in feeding steers. At Kapuskasing, Ontario, tests have shown that on dry knolls or any soils lacking in moisture, better results may be expected from seedling alfalfa without a nurse crop than with one. Regarding sunflowers, the superintendent at Invermore, British Columbia, reports that the oil obtained compares favorably with field corn. These extracted statements by no means convey a fitting idea of the large amount of information to be obtained in the reports of the superintendents, but they illustrate in a very limited way the facts that are forthcoming.

The Modern Age

Good Things of Life Never so Easy to Command, as at Present

I am writing this in the living room of my home on a typewriter that weighs more than a moderate school book. Light is provided by incandescent lamps, and in each lamp burns two incandescent bulbs.

In an adjoining room is a telephone from which I can talk to any city on the continent. On the wall is a thermostat which regulates the flow of gas in my furnace and keeps the room at an even temperature of 70 degrees.

Almost within arms' reach are several shelves of books filled with the most profound and beautifully expressed thoughts. The floors of my home are cleaned with a suction sweeper, operated by electricity while the clothes are put through an electric washer and ironed in an automatic driving manner.

My children attend a school where they are given a better education than the schools their parents could command a century ago. I enjoy all those things and yet I am an ordinary citizen with an ordinary income, living in an ordinary way. Tens of thousands have as much as I have and more. And yet I kick and wonder what all the world.

We the good things of life ever so easily at the command of the ordinary man as they are today? Don't we all do a lot of wishing that we haven't any right to do? And we if we are not careful, isn't there a danger that we will upset the greatest civilization the world has ever known?—William Feather in the Philadelphia Ledger.

Canada's Attractions

More than $7,000,000 have been loaned to Manitoba farmers by the Manitoba Farm Loans Board since it was instituted in 1917. The Board is reported to be floated another loan of $500,000, the proceeds to be distributed to farmers under the provisions of the farms loans' scheme.

Hid German Flags

Banners of Enemy Knights of the Order at Windsor

What has happened to the banners of the ex-Kaiser and seven other enemy Knights of the Order, which were removed from St. George's Chapel at Windsor in May, 1917?

The mystery of these banners, the highest order of British chivalry, was recently revealed by the Dean of Windsor in a sermon he preached in Norwich Cathedral. "The fact is," he said, "no one knows what has become of them. He had hunted high and low for them without avail.

It is understood that they are safely hidden at Windsor and will not be produced until the King asks for them.

Sir Henry Fairhaven, baronet of arms, and the representative appointed by the late Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, the former garter king, to take down the banners, are the only two people who know the exact spot in which the banners lie hidden. "When Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty died the secret of the banners was handed down to me," said Sir Henry Fairhaven, "and I have been unable to reveal it to my wife to state how far the banners were perfectly safe and in good condition, and that they are at Windsor, where they were placed in a certain spot by Sir Alfred's custodian."

"It was decided when they were removed not to destroy them, as they may one day be called for by the King. Unless the King asks for them, it is possible that they will remain in their present hiding place for hundreds of years. It is impossible to predict their ultimate destiny. They are dead to the public."

Perhaps in some future century they will be uncovered—a strange relic of the tumult of the great war.

British Land Legion

Novel Suggestion for Means of Colonizing Canada is Put Forward

The novel suggestion that a "British Land Legion" be formed as a means of colonizing Canada, is being put before the British authorities and the public by F. C. Wade, Agent-General for British Columbia.

It is proposed that members of the "Legion" should wear uniforms and be under semi-military discipline, would be guaranteed three years of farm work and at the end of that period would each be placed in possession of one hundred acres of land. During the three years they would have acquired valuable experience in Dominion farming methods, and would then be entitled to a loan from the Federal Government to enable them to finance the workings of their land.

Sunflowers for Slage

The practical value of sunflowers for slage is now so well established that the Alberta Department of Agriculture has announced it will provide the seedsmen of the province with a scheme to secure either for cash or on credit

Similar provision is being made for distribution of corn for seedling purposes indicating that Alberta may now be regarded as a corn growing area.

Scientists Claim That People Of Rural Districts Will Live The Longest

One of the stories of the "Unknown" which were retold during the recent Antigonish County manifestations at Caledonia Mills, and while Dr. Franklin W. Prince, New York, of the American Society of Physical Research, was continuing his investigations into the mysteries, was that which concerned Capt. George A. Hatfield, well known deep-sea mariner, of Parrsboro, N.S.

In the spring of 1878, Captain Hatfield left Clenliege, Cuba, bound for Boston with a load of sugar. On the night of April 20, with the weather clear and the wind favorable, Captain Hatfield retired, leaving the mate in charge of the ship. He had been sleeping for some time when he was suddenly awakened by what seemed to be a man shaking him by the right shoulder and telling him to keep the vessel one-quarter of a point. Around from his shumber the captain saw a man disappearing through the cabin door. Thinking it was the mate, he went on deck and questioned him but the mate, experiencing such surprise, named him but he had not been in the cabin.

By this time a thunderstorm had broken suddenly, but wind still blew from a favorable quarter. Captain Hatfield went below and was soon asleep. The same messenger as before awoke him and he was able to distinguish, before the visitor disappeared on deck, that he was dressed in a grey suit and wore a white straw hat. When the captain went again on deck no sign could be seen of the stranger.

Captain Hatfield went below, determined to watch, but fell asleep. Again he was awakened by the apparition. It was then about midnight and the storm had abated. The skipper determined to have the three given message and had his vessel's course changed one-quarter of a point, and gave orders for a sharp lookout, as the Florida coast was being passed.

On the following day at noon, the lookout sighted what he thought to be a light-house. Captain Hatfield thought that none should be near and ran for the object. It was soon seen to be a schooner waterlogged and sinking, and on closer approach was found to be the United States schooner D. Talbot. A boat was sent to her and Captain Amesbury, the young son and several of the crew were rescued. Within a short time the disabled schooner sank.

When Captain Hatfield told of his dream to Captain Amesbury and Mrs. Amesbury, the latter confidently stated she believed the apparition to have been that of her father. As a memento of the rescue Captain Hatfield carries a valuable gold watch with the following inscription:

gophers combined," states M. P.

Tullis, Commissioner of Weeds and Branch of the Saskatchewan

Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Tullis is issuing a warning to farmers to take all possible precautions in areas where damage was severe last year, and is urging them to co-operate with neighbors in the conduct of preventive measures.

"Where wheat stems fall over last summer just before harvest," he said, "the chances are the sawfly got in its deadly work. Usually the infestation is heaviest along the edge of the field.

"It is not the adult fly that actually does the damage. The adult fly lays an egg on the wheat plant in June.

Soon it hatches, and the young worm begins to bore its way slowly down through the hollow of the stem.

By the end of July the insect has reached the ground, where it weakens the stem by boring the walls thin.

The first strong wind blows the plant over, often cut off from the branch, and the larva remains in the stubble for the winter, emerging the following

June as an adult fly to begin all over again.

The methods of control which have been found most effective are deep plowing of stubble land and sowing immune crops. All stubble land investigated should be plowed between the rows of the crop of the preceding year. A中耕 plow fitted with a jointer so that stubble is turned well down, does the best work, and the stubble should be plowed at least six inches deep.

"Where the land is badly infested immune crops such as oats and flax which are entirely free from sawfly damage, should be sown or barley and winter rye, which are only slightly subject to attack by the sawfly.

Kubana wheat suffers some loss, but not as much as spring wheat or spring rye."

Should Forget Petty Jealousies

Premier Greenfield Pleads for More

Unity Between East and West

A plea for closer unity between

Canada's east and west is the keynote of an address delivered to members of the Canadian Parliament by

Hon. Margaret Greenfield, Premier of Alberta. "What we in Canada have in common," she said, "is a closer knowledge of each other. There is too much distinction between east and west. Let us forget petty jealousies and get together for the good of the Dominion."

Premier Greenfield vigorously defended the western farmer, declaring that he was as good a Canadian citizen as could be found in the Old Country. "There is no such thing as American domination in the west," he added.

British Columbia Potatoes for Cuba

A shipment of 500 tons of British Columbia potatoes was recently made to Cuba. The potatoes were all grown in the neighborhood of Vancouver city.

Protecting Big Game

Alberta Considering Amendments to

Game Act

Big game in Alberta will be further protected, if amendments to the Game

Act are passed. Under the new amendments a big game hunt can kill only one mountain sheep or mountain goat, instead of two, and a special license may be obtained to kill big game in forest reserves of the Rockies only during the months of September and October, the fee being

$2.50 for residents and $25.00 for non-resident hunters.

Shorter Life for City Dwellers

Shorter life for city dwellers is the sentence pronounced by Dr. John Browne of the British Medical Research Council, in a recent review that that disease summarized in the medical magazine, the Lancet. His evidence lies in the latest Government table of the expectation of life, but he can give no reason for the earlier demis-of the urban dweller except that he ages earlier, while the reviewer in the Lancet thinks is begging the question.

After giving his opinion that the use of death rates in a community is very practical, the reviewer goes on:

"At the age of 15 the rural male's expectation of life is nearly two and a half years higher than that of the inhabitant of county boroughs at the same age. At the age of 40 the corresponding expectations are 25.80 and 23.36 years, respectively, and so on.

That is, life on the average is shorter in town than in country; and this is true, probably, for all classes.

In Dr. Browne's words, "It has been rendered probable that the inhabitant of the country is at these ages

(between 55 and 65) 'biologically about six to seven years younger than the inhabitant of the town."

"But the question remains as to the cause of the greater incidence of premature death in towns.

Dr. Browne gives an unhesitating opinion on this point. Thus dealing with valvular disease of the heart, which has a higher standardized death rate in county boroughs than in rural districts in the proportion of 85 to 62, he concludes that the amount of this disease is much the same in all districts

when judged by the life-table death rate;

and that it is not a matter of more or less being present

WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Issued by the Publicity Commissioner, Government Buildings, Edmonton

Grasshopper Campaign

Farmers and municipalities are entering vigorously into the campaign to combat the grasshopper and organizations have been effected in many districts. Large supplies of poison bait mixtures are being shipped out by the agricultural department and while there are few indications yet of the appearance of the pest, there is every prospect of a determined effort to deal with the grasshoppers when they do appear.

Land owners in the South Macleod Irrigation District will vote on May 15, on the issue of bonds for $2,050,000 to cover cost of construction on the irrigation project. flotation of the bonds of the United Irrigation District, for $600,000 odd, will be made by the provincial irrigation council on May 9th.

Arrangements are now being made by the department of agriculture for the carrying out of the provisions of the new act requiring the licensing of produce merchants in the province. Announcement will be made shortly of the provisions by which this act will be administered, and of those who will be required to obtain a license.

By decision of the supreme court of Canada, Hon. Chief Justice Harvey has been confirmed in his position as chief justice of the province, as a result of the controversy which arose when the courts of Alberta were divided into two divisions and Chief Justice Harvey was made chief justice of the trial division and Mr. Justice Scott made chief justice of the appellate division. The question arose as to who was chief justice of the province and the matter was taken to the supreme court of Canada with the above result.

The public utilities board of the province refused to nine companies in 1921 the right to sell shares. Most of these were oil companies, and one or two proposed coal concerns. The nine companies had a proposed capitalization of eleven million dollars.

Organization of a municipal hospital district is being undertaken in the district of Westlock, where a meeting was held last week. Discussion is also taking place at the reorganization of the municipal hospital district in the Pincher Creek territory.

Officials of the women's institute branch are now engaged in preparing an itinerary for the coming season. Large numbers of requests have come in for extension work in the way of short courses, and many societies are planning to take advantage of the courses, if possible.

Equalization assessment board of the province is now in the Lethbridge-Carson districts, investigating appeals against the equalization of assessment.

Plans are being laid by the municipalities department for the framing of the new city act, which will be a uniform act for all six cities of the province. Hon. R. G. Reid, minister of municipalities, is now making arrangements to have an act drafted, after which representatives of the cities will be called into consultation.

Farmers of the Taber district who are included in the new irrigation scheme in that district are displaying keen interest in potato production and with the advent of irrigation, this promises to become an important feature of farm production in that district.

Owing to the shortage of feed during the fall of 1921 in the cereal area in the southern part of the province, sheepmen running large bands of sheep were able to make arrangements ments with farmers in the district to run their sheep on stubble, and also to purchase any surplus feed the farmer had. These conditions were presented to the department and proceedings were stayed from moving the sheep out of the closed area until the first of June 1922, when the owners are expected to commence moving their sheep, and have them in the organization of the municipal hospital district in the Pincher Creek territory.

The department wishes to remind the sheepmen of this arrangement, and wishes them to take notice, that after the 15th of June the provincial police will receive instructions to enforce that part of the Domestic Animals Act, which deals with the running at large and grazing, not only of sheep in prohibited areas, but of cattle and horses whose owners are not residents of this area.

Grasshoppers.—Investigation by officials of the department shows that grasshopper eggs are laid in large numbers over most of the southern and central area of the province. Extensive preparations have been made for a campaign against this pest. A complete organization is now in the field and large stores of poison bait have been purchased by the department and stored at various points.

Live Stock.—Live stock generally is not in good condition. Losses have been small except in certain parts of the south where the late snow storms caused some losses among horses, cattle and lambs. Speaking generally, conditions would appear to be as good as have obtained for several years past.

MARVEL AMONG NATIONS

A great many of our good cousins over the border are distressed in their innocent little souls because Great Britain owes the United States war debts amounting to $3,805,000,000. It never occurs to them that the great nation that virtually financed the war has war debts owing to her of $3,735,000,000. Some of the nations owing Great Britain are: Russia $2,805,000,000; France $2,745,000,000; Italy $2,384,000,000; Belgium $510,000,000; Serbia $110,000,000; Dominions $720,000,000. Truly the Old Motherland stands as a marvel among nations.

Will Now Investigate Transportation Costs On Western Railways

Ottawa.—By a vote of 109 to 92, a majority of 17, for the Government, the House voted to appoint a parliamentary committee to investigate transportation costs on the railways, with particular regard to the Crow's Nest Pass agreement of 1897. The vote came after an exciting debate during which Sir Henry Drayton moved an amendment to declare "that it was the immediate duty of the Government to submit its policy to Parliament." Sir Henry's amendment was defeated 167 to 35.

The Conservatives also supported the Drayton amendment on it and the main motion. Government supporters presented a solid front. On the main motion the Progressives, except for Humphreys and MacBride, both British Columbia members, voted against it. The Government resolution A. W. Neill, independent member for Coonox-Alberta, also voted with the Liberals. Announcement of the vote was greeted by Liberal cheers.

Freight rates; their bearing on the industrial and agricultural life of the Dominion, and the bearing, in turn, on freight rates of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement signed in 1897 when the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Government of the day came to terms regarding rates on certain commodities passing between Eastern and Western Canada, were all freely discussed on the Government's motion to name a committee of the House to consider transportation costs with particular regard to the effect of the rates under the Crow's Nest Pass agreement upon Canadian National Railways and other lines, as well as upon agricultural development and Canadian industry generally. The Conservatives, led by Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, opposed the resolution and argued that it was the duty of the Government to bring down its statement of policy without seeking to lay the responsibility on the shoulders of a parliamentary committee.

Manchurian

Leader's Reverse

Peking.—General Chang Tso-Lin, commander of the Feng Tien forces, has suffered reverses on three points of the battlefield, according to consul's advice received here. At Machang, south of Tien Tsin, Chang's losses are said to have been heavy. Along the Hua River, at a place called Kun-Hien, he is asserted his troops have been driven eastward. The routing of the Manchurian leader's troops from Chang Sin-Tien, which forms the northwest terminus of the battlefield appears to be complete.

After Ten Long Years of Suffering

HE SINGS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Jules Labrosse, who had Bright's Disease, Gravel, Dropy and Diabetes. Tells of Benefit he got from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

(Continued)—After suffering for ten years from Bright's Disease, Jules Labrosse, a well known resident here, now so far recovered that he is singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have rendered many invalids healthy again and am happy," says Mr. Labrosse, in telling his story. "I suffered for ten years and am now very well. I went down in weight to 125 lbs. Now I am up to 150 lbs."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are surely a kidney remedy. Healthy kidneys strain all the impurities from the body. The body carries new strength to all parts of the body. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make healthy kidneys.

The War in China

Heavy Fighting at Close Range is Reported

Peking.—General Wu Pei Fu, commander of the Chih Li forces, is reported to have arrived near Machang, on the railroadsouth of Tien Tsin, to take personal command of the operations against the troops of Chang Tso-Lin on that section of the battle front.

Latest reports are to the effect that Chang Tso-Lin is heavily fortifying his troops in the region with men and arms and indications are that Machang soon will be the centre of intense fighting. Artillery duels already have commenced over a wide front. General Wu, if he actually takes command there, will have facing him his 25-year-old son of Chang Tso-Lin.

The heavy bombardment that has been in progress at various points has depleted the stores of big gun ammunition and the fighting is now mainly with machine guns and rifles. At some places there has been a lull in the battle.

In the middle of the front, troops of Chang Tso-Lin have recaptured Kuan. Wounded men from that region say the fighting was heavy during the past few days, often at close quarters. The tide of battle was continually changing until the arrival of Chang's reinforcements turned the scale.

Makes Whimsical Threat

Will Haunt Premier if Woman's Vote is Withheld

Montreal.—If Premier Taschereau continues to refuse women the right to vote in the province of Quebec, I shall return from the realms of the dead after my death and worry him," declared Mrs. John Scott, during the course of a humorous address at the inaugural luncheon of the American Women's Club here.

"Yes," continued the speaker, "if he is still in power which I hope he won't, I shall come back and visit him, so when you hear of strange happenings in Mr. Taschereau's home down in Quebec such as there were in that haunted house in Nova Scotia, you will know what they mean."

Radio Supplements Telephone

Manitoba Will Enter Radio Broadcast on Business Basis

Winnipeg.—The Manitoba Government telephones system will enter the radio broadcasting business on a commercial basis shortly. John Lowry, telephone commissioner, has announced.

Legislative control of operation of amateur wireless and radio machines will be sought at the next sitting of the Legislature, Mr. Lowry said. The telephone department had under consideration placing a wireless link in the long distance telephone system between The Pas and Swan River, but owing to lack of secrecy, it will not be feasible to erect such a wireless connecting link until legislative enactments are passed governing the control of amateur wireless plants so that messages passing between Swan River and The Pas could not be picked up. Utmost secrecy is necessary on the line owing to the important mining messages which would pass over the line, Mr. Lowry said.

Asking Funds For St. Dunstan's Memorial

Viceroy of India Expects to Collect Large Sums

London.—The Viceroy of India, the Earl of Reading, has appealed to all the governors of Indian provinces to organize a collection of funds on behalf of St. Dunstan's Institution for the blind in England to help Lady Pearson found a memorial in connection with the great work she has done for the blind people of the British Empire. Jules Labrosse, a well known resident here, now so far recovered that he is singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have rendered many invalids healthy again and am happy," says Mr. Labrosse, in telling his story. "I suffered for ten years and am now very well. I went down in weight to 125 lbs. Now I am up to 150 lbs."

Valuable Ore Discovered

High Percentage Shown by Samples Taken Near Lethbridge

Lethbridge.—Gold and platinum bearing ore, showing a high percentage, have been taken from the West Butte Sweet Grass Hills, southeast of this city, and following closely on the essay reports from Montreal, negotiations opened with the Canadian Government to interest them in developing the property. Three lots of sample to St. Dunstan's Memorial.

Mr. Lowry, who is heading the delegation, said that the other parts of the Empire are participating.

Soviet Not Pleased With The Project For Russian Reconstruction

To Help B.C. Fruit Growers

Vernon, B.C.—Word received here by the British Columbia traffic credit association from Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, intimates that the Federal Government this year will make provision for an assistant transportation official, who will devote his time to British Columbia fruit production. The minister also said that the Government has made provisions for continuing the experiments in the transportation of British Columbia fruit and vegetables, under ventilation and heat, and under refrigeration.

Canada Wants Ambassador

Representation at Washington Now Being Considered

Ottawa.—Appointment of a Canadian representative at Washington is now receiving consideration at the hands of the Dominion Government, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister, stated in the House of Commons. The Prime Minister's statement was made in reply to urgent pleas by E. M. MacDonald (Liberal, Picton, N.S.) that a Canadian minister should be appointed to Washington.

Mr. MacDonald brought up the question on a motion for production of documents "relative to the petition of the Eastern Lahave Transportation Company and others to the Secretary of State for External Affairs," and replies thereto from the United States Government.

The case at issue, Mr. MacDonald said, was that of a Nova Scotia vessel, essayed by an American vessel off Prince Edward Island. The fault lay with the American vessel. The Canadian owners, under United States law, could not sue through the courts. They had to act through the secretary of external affairs.

"There should be a more direct method of communication between Canada and the United States than the present one of going through the British embassy at Washington," Mr. MacDonald declared.

Genoa.—The Soviet plenipotentiaries are not delighted with the project of the powers for the reconstruction of Russia. Such is the brief summary emanating from Soviet sources of the Bolshevik views of the memorandum on which Europe's statesmen have worked so laboriously.

The fact that the document does not mention recognition of the Soviet Government and ignores the suggestion of Governmental loans is said to displease the Communist leaders, who are now conferring in Moscow.

Belgium has not signed the memorandum and word was received here that France had determined to stand by Belgium.

The financial code at Genoa has been written, declared Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, chairman of the Financial Commission, and he believed it would prove as important as the historic Justinian civil code, the basis of world jurisprudence.

The essential points are limitation of the issue of paper money, fixing parity with gold, economizing the use of gold and co-operation of gold. The United States, said the chairman, with almost half the world's gold, could join in the future study of the problems without involving itself in political difficulties and could help Europe as well as herself.

The financial report, like the memorandum of the powers to the Russians, emphasizes that assistance to disorganized countries should take the form of private, not governmental credits.

To Place Manitoba Loan

Winnipeg—Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, left for New York and other eastern points to investigate the condition of the money markets with the view to placing a $2,500,000 Manitoba Government loan. The loan will be to cover expenditures voted at last session of the legislature.

Japanese Cabinet Resignations
Tokio—Prime Minister Takahashi of Japan, has announced his resignation of four of his cabinet ministers, those holding the portfolios of agriculture and commerce, interior, railroads and education. The despatch adds that the minister of war will likely tender his resignation as well.

COUNCILLOR PICCARIELLO

shall be glad to hear as soon as possible when you have made your selection, so that the matter can be further dealt with locally."

Considerable discussion arose over the question of the proposed Victoria Street bridge over Lyon Creek. A plan submitted called for a reinforced concrete structure of 36 feet in width and an estimated cost of approximately $2700. Some were of the opinion that this would not be wide enough to accommodate the traffic at that point and felt that some might be extended another 16 or 19 feet to the north. Councillor McDonald claimed that a culvert at East Coleman was eighty feet in width and Councillor Piccarielo won by betting a thousand dollars that it was less than eighty feet. Several other substantial bets were necessary to settle various arguments that ensued on the bridge question, and one of the spectators was beginning to feel that there was danger of his being arrested as a frequenter of a gaunting house.

The plans and estimates submitted are to be forwarded to the department of public works at Edmonton for consideration, the understanding being that whatever size bridge is to be built the provincial government will stand two-thirds of the cost.

Council adjourned at 11:22 p.m.

BLAIRMORE BOYS INSTALLING RADIO

Three local boys, Lindsay Carter, Wilfred Dutif and Orland Joyce, have been working for some time now installing a radiophone in the Carter home and according to latest information regarding their progress, we learn that they are held up from completing the instrument on account of non-delivery of certain parts that are needed.

When the radio is completed, Blairmore will be among the first of the smaller towns in the province to have one of these instruments. The cities are now full of "radio bugs" and the local boys deserve due credit for their efforts in this line of pastime.

BOOTLEGGERS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of The Pass Bootleggers' Association was held in the national park on Sunday morning last at 8:30, the honorable president of the club, Mr. A. E. McPhail, having presided. The meeting was opened with a short service by Rev. Mr. Taber, followed by a reading of the minutes of the previous year.

The secretary read the minutes of the last annual meeting and of several special meetings that had been called to consider what portion of profits might be used to fight cases preferred against good-standing members of the association. The minutes were all approved as read, and the chaplain was called upon to invoke the sublime blessing as follows:

"O, lord, open now our lips that our mouths may throw out some sprays. For the privileges we have enjoyed during the year make us truly thankful, and may the government and police and legal men feel similarly grateful for the benefits derived through us. Strengthen our spirits, o, lord, and may our friends never be found wanting. We see to glory in thine abundance and take joy out of the fact that one other has joined the ranks of the inebriated. Thou has said, o lord, that stills should prevail in the land and thou knowest that we have done our utmost to fulfil thy will in this respect.

We now say, "Let there be stills," and there are stills. Sometimes the evil days draw nigh, and the moon-shine's alike on the just and unjust.

We travail against the best efforts of the law makers and the cops and there is little of health to us, but we take comfort in knowing that prohibition has been a godsend and made millionaires of otherwise worthless citizens and undesirables. We grant that we have erred and strayed like lost sheep, but none can say that we have not reaped full reward. We thrive continually in thy service of prohibitory liquids. Keep us, we pray, from the hand of the law until we have enough and to spare.

Give us peace in our time and plenty. All these mercies we ask in the name of him who has taught us to say: "What'll ya have?"

The underground purveyors of booze now had the pleasure of hearing a very ably written paper by George Scumchuk, entitled, "Wealth, and How to Get It."

A song by Eugene Carminens brought down the house. Eugene seemed to have suffered from German eyewater on the Ypres front but was enjoying better liquid now.

A collection was taken to pay for keeping supplies in storage at Crows' Nest during the past winter.

He was a simple looking lad and he annoyed the busy blacksmith by standing inquisitively near the forge where he was very much in the way. Finally the blacksmith held a red hot iron suddenly under the boy's nose, hoping to frighten him away. "Say mister," said the boy, unabashed, "If you'll give me a dime I'll lick it." The smith took a dime from his pocket and held it out. Whereupon the simple looking lad took the coin, licked it and walked away whistling.
